In the Hunsur, Krishnarajpet, Nagamangala and Mandya talukas, the local cess is calculated on the full assessment, whereas in the Malvalli taluk, it is calculated on three-fourths of the assessment only. The irrigation cess is calculated on the full assessment in the Krishnarajpet and Nagamangala talukas and on three-fourths of it in the Hunsur taluk. In the Seringapatam and Malvalli talukas no irrigation cess is levied, and the Amildars of these talukas report that no orders to that effect were ever received in their talukas. In the

No. 4010-19—R. F. 98-96, DATED BANGALORE, 5TH DECEMBER 1898.

ORDER THEREON.—The Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur district, brought to the notice of the Government that the practice observed in the several taluks of his district in regard to the levy of local and irrigation cesses on lands under private enterprize tanks had not been uniform, that the cesses were levied in certain taluks on the full assessment on lands below such tanks while in others they were levied on ¾ths of the assessment on the lands, exclusive of the one-fourth assessment remitted in favor of the holders of such tanks; and solicited instructions in the matter. The reports received from other Deputy Commissioners who were addressed on the subject show that the practice observed in their districts is also not uniform. The Superintendent, Revenue Survey, is of opinion that the local and irrigation cesses should be levied on the full assessment on lands under private enterprize tanks. Government concur with the Superintendent, Revenue Survey, and accordingly direct that the local and irrigation cesses be levied hereafter on the full assessment on lands below such private enterprize tanks throughout the State.

2. As regards kodagi inams, the levy of the cesses should be in accordance with the general rule applicable to other inams.
